Also honored was Harold Briggs, who has served as Mitchell school principal for nine years.

Mrs. Ida Hanfelder of East Alton, a state vice-president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, was the principal speaker and conducted the traditional "Founder's Day" candle-lighting ceremony.

The first life membership ever presented by the unit was awarded to Principal Briggs. He received a certificate of life membership in the ICPT and a membership pin. Briggs began teaching at Stallings school in 1949 and went to Mitchell school after spending three years in the service. He has missed only two PTA meetings in all those years.

Mrs. Hanfelder was presented with a silver inscribed "Presented to Ida Hanfelder for 35 years service to the Mitchell PTA February 1965 from the PTA in recognition of her 35 years of continuous service."

During a social hour which followed, Mrs. Hanfelder presided at the refreshment table and served a "founder's day" cake which she had donated for the occasion.

State Seeks Public Opinion On Improvement of Highways

Suggestions from the public on improving the state's road program will be accepted at a public hearing in Belleville on Thursday, conducted by the Illinois Highway Study Commission.

The hearing is for residents of Madison county as well as St. Clair county, and it will be held at 9:30 a.m. in the Jubilee Room, Fischer's restaurant, 2100 West Main street.

Among the topics which are of particular interest to the commission are the need for major highway developments, the influence of highways on economic development, the adequacy of the current highway programs and the service which highways provide for tourism and recreation.

The commission is made up of 10 legislators and seven public members appointed by the governor. It was created under provisions of an act of the 1963 Legislature and will place before the 1965 legislature some bills designed to bolster the highway program in the state. The final report of the study will be presented to the 1967 legislature along with proposed legislation.

The commission also is concerned with all modes of transportation and invites comments on mass transport and on the significance of air, rail, water and pipeline movements.

Suggestions relating to highway finance and possible sources of additional revenue for highway purposes are requested from all participants.

Portell Reveals Salary In Income Tax Return

Willard Portell of Granite City, Madison county circuit clerk, showed in his federal income tax return that he earned $534 in wages during 1964. His total tax bill was $1744.

He said his county salary was his only source of income during the year. He formerly had an interest in a bowling alley establishment but resigned that position as the new judicial reform system required all of his spare time and he was forced to give up all outside activities.

Hints on Broadening Tots' Food Preferences

By Mrs. Catherine R. Mauch, Madison County Home Advisor

Do you have small children who are starting to feed themselves? If so, you should expect some "rough spots" in their eating techniques.

Parents of three-to-five-year-olds should concentrate on helping them achieve a healthy attitude toward eating. As children mature, they can master the mechanics of eating and table manners.

The pre-school years offer the most opportune time to develop food likes and prevent food prejudices. When possible, give children food they enjoy and will eat heartily. Forcing disliked or new foods may only result in an unpleasant occasion.

On the other hand, "stretching" children's food tastes gradually during these years is all to the good. There will never be a better time to encourage youngsters to eat a variety of foods.

To Try Small Amounts

"To help children learn to eat unfamiliar foods, offer them in small amounts. Don't make a fuss if they don't score an immediate hit. Try again in a few days. They may be more acceptable if prepared in a different way or served in a different color combination.

A youngster may refuse a new food if the serving is too large. Try offering a smaller portion. Remember that a young child has a small capacity for food.

One of the best ways to instill good eating habits in children is to set a good example yourself. Of course, children, like adults, are entitled to a few dislikes.

Here are some other suggestions for promoting healthy meals for three- to five-year-olds:

Venice Man Sentenced To 3-8 Years in Prison

James C. Edmonds, 21, of 107 Garner road, Venice, was sentenced to a term of three to eight years in the state prison at Joplin Thursday by Associate Judge I. H. Streep who revoked his probation during a hearing in Madison county circuit court at Edwardsville.

He was convicted in 1962 in a theft case and was arrested last Monday for tampering with a motor vehicle.
